SUBJECT: Annual Report, in accordance with Minn. Stat. §10A.02, subd. 8, July 1, 1999, through June 30, 2000

Pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, chapter 10A.02, subd. 8 (a), the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board submits its Annual Report.

The Board, consistent with their objectives and administrative procedures, provided guidance to the thousands of individuals and associations whose disclosure of certain political, economic interest, and lobbying activities is regulated by the Ethics Government Act, Minnesota Statutes, chapter 10A.

Included in this Annual Report is information about the campaign finance disclosure associated with the 1999 nonelection year and three special elections held in fiscal year 2000.

Throughout our activities we affirm the need for timely disclosure, public information, and enforcement, ever mindful of the depth and breadth of volunteer professional resources expended annually to comply with this important public disclosure law. We acknowledge the trust place in the Board and its staff by the Minnesota Legislature.

The Board's activities during this fiscal year reflect our strong commitment to a reasoned and balanced approach to the public trust as expressed in the Board's mission statement.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board is charged with the administration of the Ethics in Government Act, Minnesota Statutes, chapter 10A. During fiscal year 2000 Board staff continued to keep abreast of technology and the public's continued desire for easy access to information filed with the Board. A request for bid was published in the State Register for the development of a second generation of the Board's campaign finance software. Development is expected to begin in fiscal year 2001 with a final product ready for client use in election year 2002. Staff maintains an agency inter-active web site with information that is updated daily and public use computers are available in the Board office for clients needing staff assistance or clients without access to a computer.

The Board met four times to conduct business, issued six advisory opinions, adopted one new Board policy, concluded investigations and issued findings in one complaint, investigated 39 potential violations of Chapter 10A which concluded in settlement of 30 conciliation agreements and eight findings of probable cause, and produced ten publications.

Board staff conducted training classes to aid volunteer treasurers and candidates in recordkeeping, reporting, and Finance 98 campaign software; served on several faculties of Continuing Legal Education seminars; spoke to various groups and classes of local colleges and universities about the requirements of Chapter 10A; hosted 11 foreign dignitaries; and represented the state on the national level at the Council of Governmental Ethics Laws.

Chapter 10A includes three major programs: campaign finance disclosure, lobbyist disclosure, and disclosure by public officials.

The report includes information on the filings of approximately:

- 1,400 registered principal candidate committees, political committees, and political funds who filed by approximately 1,400 reports;
- 1,490 registered lobbyists representing 1,432 associations who filed approximately 9,550 reports;
- 1,270 lobbyist principals; and
- 1,370 public officials required to report to the Board.

Also included is information on public subsidy payments to eligible candidates in three special elections and six political party units during nonelection year 1999. Information on payments can be found beginning on page 25.

SUMMARY OF BOARD ACTIVITIES

Meetings

The Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board held:

- Four regular meetings; and

Advisory opinion procedure

The Board is authorized to issue advisory opinions on the requirements of the Ethics in Government Act (Minn. Stat. chapter 10A) and the Hennepin County Disclosure Law (Minn. Stat. §§ 383B.041 - 383B.058). Individuals or associations may ask for advisory opinions to guide their compliance with these laws.

A request for an advisory opinion and the opinion itself are private data. The Board provides a Consent to Release Information form to opinion requesters as part of the procedures under this law. If the requester does not consent to the publication of the requester's identity, the Board generally exercises an option provided in the law to publish a public version of the opinion which does not identify the requester.

A written advisory opinion issued by the Board is binding on the Board in any subsequent Board proceeding concerning the person making or covered by the request and is a defense in a judicial proceeding that involves the subject matter of the opinion and is brought against the person making or covered by the request unless: 1) the Board has amended or revoked the opinion before the initiation of the Board or judicial proceeding, has notified the person making or covered by the request of its action, and has allowed at least 30 days for the person to do anything that might be necessary to comply with the amended or revoked opinion; 2) the request has omitted or misstated material facts; or 3) the person making or covered by the request has not acted in good faith in reliance on the opinion.

Advisory opinions issued in fiscal year 2000 may be found in this report by program.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE PROGRAM

Court Decision

Republican Party of Minnesota v. Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board

The Honorable Ann Montgomery, District Court Judge, found unconstitutional, under the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, the portion of Minn. Stat. §10A.01, subd. 10b, that limits independent expenditures by a political party on behalf of its candidates.

Advisory opinions issued

- Use of principal campaign committee funds

Costs of civil litigation which is not related to a candidate's election or to the candidate's principal campaign committee are not the type of legal fees that may be paid as a noncampaign disbursement. Costs of litigation are not expenses of serving in office that may be paid as a noncampaign disbursement. Nos. 314 and 318

- Providing on-line contribution service

A company may, consistent with Minnesota Statutes Chapter 10A, provide internet-based credit card contribution services which include credit card processing and accumulation of funds into a company account for forwarding to the beneficiary principal campaign committees. Certain recordkeeping and reporting issues arise, about which principal campaign committees should be notified. Issuance of this opinion does not constitute endorsement of the requester or of its plan. No. 319

- Reporting of political expenditures

A corporation may bundle services provided to entities registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board, however for reporting purposes, the recipients must allocate the costs among the actual types of underlying services provided. When engaging in joint development projects, or the reselling of data developed for other clients, a corporation and its clients must ensure that each client pays the reasonable value for the goods or services provided so that neither the corporation nor any client subsidizes the benefit received by another client. No. 320

Complaints

The Board completed an investigation and issued a finding in one complaint.

- The Board found there was no statutory or administrative rule that provided a sufficient basis to find probable cause that Education Minnesota or a legislator attending an Education Minnesota legislative dinner that was the subject of the complaint, violated the law in connection with the giving and accepting of the meal.

Filing deadlines

Approximately 1,400 principal campaign committees, political committees, and political funds were registered with the Board.

Fees for the late filing of the Report of Receipts and Expenditures:

- 33 committees and funds paid late fees totaling $3,430; and
- 1 committee was granted a waiver totaling $1,000.

Late filing fees were deposited in the state general fund.

Two delinquent candidate committees were referred to the Minnesota Collections Enterprise (MCE) to collect late filing fees owed.

Staff review of campaign finance reports

Approximately 740 reports of receipts and expenditures were filed by political party committees, political committees, and political funds. Approximately 660 reports were filed by principal campaign committees.

Each filed report was reviewed by Board staff for compliance with the disclosure law requirements including accurate accounting and reporting for receipts and expenditures, proper use of required disclosure schedules, and adherence to applicable contribution and expenditure limits.

Nonelection year	Reports filed	Amendments filed
1999	1,400	344*
1997	1,195	96
1995	1,285	77

*This increase is due to the Board's continued effort to seek full compliance with campaign finance disclosure laws including full address and employment information from itemized contributors, specific purposes of expenditures, and dates on all transactions. Better methods of reconciling reports between committees and funds and information received from the Department of Revenue have assisted staff in meeting the goal of full compliance.

Investigations

The Board reviewed investigations of 39 potential violations of Chapter 10A, involving 36 committees or funds and made eight findings.

The Board issued eight findings showing probable cause. Two committees were fined a total of $400, six violations carry no penalty under current law. Thirty of the committees entered into conciliation agreements.

Contribution limits

- Single source contributions from individuals, political committees, and political funds.

All candidates for state executive and legislative offices must abide by statutory contribution limits.

The Board reviewed ten potential violations of this law, based on reports filed by principal campaign committees for 1998. All ten cases were concluded by conciliation agreement. The Board imposed civil fines totaling $2,040 on the ten committees*. Four principal campaign committees were also required to return a total of $290 to four contributors. Payments of the civil fines were deposited in the state general fund.

* In one instance the Board refunded a contribution of $450 after receiving further information and an amended report from the principal campaign committee.

- Contributions from special sources (lobbyists, political committees, political funds, and contributions from individuals of more than $100 and more than one-half the amount of the contribution limit).

All candidates for state executive and legislative offices must limit their contributions from special sources.

The Board reviewed seven potential violations of this law, based on reports filed by principal campaign committees for 1998 and 1999. All seven cases were concluded by conciliation agreement. The Board imposed civil fines totaling $2,439 and required all seven principal campaign committees to return a total of $1,639 to 12 contributors. Payments of the civil fines were deposited in the state general fund.

- Aggregate contributions from political party units

All candidates for state executive and legislative offices must abide by statutory aggregate contribution limits from political party units.

The Board reviewed five potential violations of this law, based on reports filed by principal campaign committees for 1999. All five cases were concluded by conciliation agreement. The Board imposed civil fines totaling $1,109 on the five committees. Four principal campaign committees were also required to return a total of $1,069 to four party units. One principal campaign committee returned $40 to the state in lieu of refunding a party unit. Payments of the civil fines and the return to the state were deposited in the state general fund.

Contributions during legislative session

Principal campaign committees are prohibited from soliciting or accepting certain contributions during a regular legislative session.

The Board reviewed two potential violations of this law, based on reports filed by principal campaign committees for 1998. The Board imposed civil fines on the two principal campaign committees totaling $400. Payments of civil fines were deposited in the state general fund.

- The Board found there is probable cause to believe that a principal campaign committee violated Minn. Stat. §10A.065 when it accepted contributions totaling $150 from one political committee and one lobbyist during the regular session of the Legislature in 1998. In lieu of forwarding the public finding of probable cause to the county attorney, the Board imposed a civil fine of $150 on the principal campaign committee for acceptance of the contributions.
- The Board found there is probable cause to believe that a principal campaign committee violated Minn. Stat. §10A.065, when it accepted a $250 contribution from a lobbyist during the regular session of the Legislature in 1999. In lieu of forwarding the public finding of probable cause to the county attorney, the Board imposed a civil fine of $250 on the principal campaign committee for acceptance of the contributions*.

* The Board vacated the finding at its August Board meeting and returned the $250 civil fine after receiving further information and an amended report from the principal campaign committee.

Contributions between committees

Principal campaign committees are prohibited from accepting contributions from other principal campaign committees except upon the contributing committees termination.

The Board reviewed nine potential violations of this law, based on reports filed by principal campaign committees for 1999. Nine principal campaign committees were required to return a total of $4,500 to ten contributing principal campaign committees.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT

Appropriation

A one time appropriation of $234,000 for the 2000 – 2001 biennium was approved to upgrade and broaden the scope of Finance 1998, an accounting and reporting application currently offered at no charge to Board clients. The improved software, known as Finance 2002, will help political committees, political funds, and political party units, in accounting for their campaign finance activities and reporting them electronically to the Board. The software will provide compliance checking of contributions and expenditures, as well as ease the data entry burden of the user by providing the name and addresses of entities registered with the Board.

Implementation

A request for proposal for the development of Finance 2002 was published in the State Register on June 26, 2000. The request for proposal calls for the submission of responses no later than August 18, 2000, and provides that the project completion date for Finance 2002 is no later than November 1, 2001.

Development

The development of Finance 2002 will be helped by the addition of the position of Information Systems Manager to the Board staff. John Nesbitt has been hired by the Board to support the integration of technology into Board programs and functions. For Finance 2002, Mr. Nesbitt wrote a design document defining the product the Board required, and will serve as the project manager and vendor interface during the development of Finance 2002.
